Nazi Floodtide Of Armor Hurled Back In Kasserine Gap

By WES GALLAGHER
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Feb. 24.—(AP)—American and British forces, after a bitter three-day battle, have hurled Marshal Erwin Rommel's floodtide of armor back into the mountains of the Kasserine Gap in central Tunisia under a hail of bursting bombs from hundreds of planes.

The German chieftain is in full retreat, field reports said today, after his tanks had surged to within three miles of Thala, key road junction to the upper plains of Kramamsa, and his battered armor was reported attempting to make a stand only three miles from the mouth of the twisting gap from which he sallied for his attempts to crack the Allied front in Tunisia.

(Rommel thus had been forced to drop back at least 14 miles from the highwater mark of his advance. Thala is 25 miles north of Kasserine. The Kasserine pass is five or six miles long and is northwest of Kasserine).

(Rommel still was 53 or 54 miles west of the starting point of his offensive at Faid Pass, however).

(A Reuters dispatch from Allied headquarters said a battalion of about 1,000 Italians had been trapped in another pass, leading toward Siliana, about 70 miles northeast of Kasserine. French Moroccan troops let the Italians enter and then closed in, the dispatch said, while a Scottish regiment blocked another exit.)

An Allied headquarters communique said the backwash of the Rommel thrust began early yesterday after American and British forces had successfully stood off his attacks during three days of heavy fighting.

The Germans apparently were keeping their tanks near the mouth of the pass to cover their retreat against onrushing American and British armored forces and under the heaviest Allied air attack of the Tunisian war.

American troops attacking down the Hapog river from the west captured more than 300 German and Italian prisoners and enough small arms to equip an entire battalion.

With the coming of daylight Maj. Gen. Carl Spaatz, American air chief on the Tunisian front, threw almost every British and American plane at his disposal against the battered and retreating Germans.

They turned the road from Thala through the Kasserine valley, walled by 4,000 and 5,000-foot mountains, into a veritable hell of exploding bombs and machine-gun fire.

Even Flying Fortresses, usually used only for heavy bombardment of airfields and ports, joined in the attacks, smashing tons of bombs on the roads along which Rommel was attempting to withdraw.

Fortresses, twin-motored Marauders and Mitchells and Bostons all joined in the devastating attacks on the Kasserine, Sbeitla and Feriana areas. Hurricane bombers, Lightnings, Airacobras and Spitfires were among the "light stuff" which poured machine-gun and cannon fire into trucks and then raked roadside ditches for hiding Germans.

Formation after formation attacked the Kasserine and Sbeitla areas, with the Fortresses first laying neat strings of bombs along the roadsides and Marauders, Mitchells and attack planes following.

Even outside the battle area one convoy of 20 German vehicles on the Feriana road was blasted to splinters.

OPA Rules on Cards For Cars in Storage

New York, Feb. 24.—(AP)—The New York regional office of the Office of Price Administration directed today that all car owners who had not obtained 1943 license plates or whose automobiles were in dead storage return their gasoline ration books to local ration boards.

The office has jurisdiction over New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

The ruling was put into effect to "conserve millions of gallons of gasoline," the OPA said, noting that presumably thousands of automobiles had gone into dead storage during recent months and the sale of 1943 license plates had decreased. In some states 1942 licenses are still valid. Motorists in those states still using their cars would not be affected until the new licensing period.

FISCAL BILL PARED DOWN IN COMMITTEE

Funds For Three Federal-Aid-To State Programs Are Sliced From Appropriation List

LAND MAKES REPORT

Washington, Feb. 24.—(AP)—A $6,298,530,435 appropriations measure—99 per cent of which is listed for direct war purposes—was turned over to the house today after a subcommittee eliminated funds for three federal-aid-to-states programs.

On the ground that they lacked "the sanction of enabling legislation," the committee trimmed from the new fiscal bill these federal contributions:

1. The sum of $2,973,000 for the payment to states for care of children of employed mothers.

2. An allocation of $3,182,000 to aid in the cost of the high school victory corps.

3. Grants amounting to $1,200,000 for emergency maternity and infant care for wives and infants of enlisted men.

The committee deferred action on a request for $65,075,000 "to recruit and distribute an adequate supply of farm labor for the 1943 farm year," explaining the subject was so important it would be handled in a separate bill.

Missing from the measures also was a $200,000 allotment which the national resources planning board sought to help pay its expenses for the rest of the fiscal year.

Biggest sum in the measure was earmarked for the ship-building program. It included $923,719,545 to liquidate previous expenses $3,076,280,455 for new ship contracts, plus $2,173,719,545 in contract authorizations.

A highlight in the hearings was the testimony of Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, war shipping administrator, that shipbuilding facilities have been standardized to produce 20,000,000 tons a year, and his opinion that further expansion (Turn To Page Nine)

No Agreement In Railroad Wage Dispute

Chicago, Feb. 24.—(AP)—The wage dispute between the nation's major railroads and 350,000 members of the five operating Brotherhoods, unsettled after hearings by the National Mediation Board, today was headed for consideration by an emergency panel.

Disclosure by George A. Cook, board chairman, that efforts to mediate the dispute had failed was followed yesterday by announcement by a union spokesman that a request was sent to Washington for an emergency panel to hear the case under procedure outlined recently by President Roosevelt.

Submission of the operating Brotherhoods' controversy to an emergency panel follows the step taken recently by the 15 non-operating rail unions, embracing 600,000 employees, in their efforts to obtain a wage increase of 20 cents an hour, with a 70 cent minimum. A special panel was scheduled to convene here next week to study the case.

The operating unions—locomotive engineers, firemen, engineers, conductors, trainmen and switchmen—demand a 30 per cent pay increase or a minimum raise of $3 a day.

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 24.—(AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad's crack passenger train "The Cavalier," heavily crowded and stopped for a signal, was rammed from the rear by a speeding switch engine and two passenger coaches early today and 57 passengers and crewmen were injured, five seriously.

Most of the injured were navy enlisted personnel.

The crash, heard over a square mile area, shattered windows and lights in some coaches, derailed one car and tied up the southward-traffic tracks of the railroad's main line four hours.

The train was southbound from Philadelphia to Cape Charles, Va. The railroad company said the two coaches attached to the switch engine were carrying 52 sailors and were about to be coupled onto the train.

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Growers were planning to cooperate today in opening the army's new second front—against Arizona's unharvested crop.

Farm labor shortages have harried the industry since the picking season began three months ago. Approximately 15,000 acres of vitally needed long-staple cotton remain untouched. If the army hastens its first assault, using military personnel as pickers, 7,500 bails may yet be saved, growers say.

Several months ago farmers proposed the importation of Mexican labor to solve the problem

End of Spring-Like Weather is in Sight

Pittsburgh, Feb. 24.—(AP)—After a week of spring-like weather, western Pennsylvania prepared for a return of winter tonight.

Although temperatures were 65 and higher yesterday, the mercury was tumbling today and was expected to reach 10 or 15, to the accompaniment of snow flurries and strong winds, before midnight.

Bodies of 20 Are Sought In Clipper Crash

Rescue Crews Hampered By Currents of Tagus In Lisbon Harbor

SOME ARE IDENTIFIED

Lisbon, Feb. 24.—(24)—Lisbon harbor police searched the Tagus river today for the bodies of 20 persons missing after the crash of the Yankee Clipper here Monday evening at the end of a flight from New York.

Sixteen passengers and crewmen aboard the giant flying boat survived the crash, but one died later ashore. The bodies of three others were recovered yesterday.

The rescue crews were hampered by the currents of the Tagus and their efforts to bring the shattered wreckage of the ship ashore.

Prominent entertainers, foreign correspondents and business men were listed among the passengers of the Yankee Clipper.

The Civil Aeronautics Board said in Washington that two of the four known dead had been tentatively identified as H. Stanton Rush, 27, of New York, first officer of the plane, and Manuel Diaz of Pelham Manor, N. Y., a partner in the steamship agency of Garcia and Diaz.

Among the passengers not listed as identified survivors were Ben Robertson 37, foreign correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune, and Frank Cuhel, 38, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, an overseas reporter for the Mutual Broadcasting system.

Other passengers not listed as identified survivors were: Arthur A. Lee, 48, an independent motion picture producer of Harrison, N. Y.

Harry G. Seidel, 52, European representative of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

Tamara Swann of New York, a singer known as "Tamara," who became a popular theatrical figure after appearing in Jerome Kern's "Gowns by Roberta."

Roy Rogan of New York, a member of the comedy dance team of Lorraine and Rogan. Rogan's wife and dancing partner, Jean Muriel, was listed among the survivors.

PARKER NOMINATION TO BE REPORTED OUT

Harrisburg, Feb. 24.—(AP)—A senate committee today invited Dr. Frank Parker, of Philadelphia, to attend a hearing called to look into his qualifications for membership on the Public Utility Commission.

Senator George B. Stevenson (R-Clinton) said the committee would get together whenever Parker appeared, possibly later in the day.

The committee on executive nominations invited Dr. Parker to appear before it after Democrats charged on the floor of the senate last night that he had served as a paid witness for utility companies.

OPPOSITION TO INDUCTION OF FATHERS

Temporary Truce is Called On Military-Farm Manpower Front at Capital

SHOCK FORCE REVIVED

By the Associated Press
Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—Capital showdown struggles today concentrated on draft deferment for fathers, induction for older men and government workers and legislative approval of more federal appointees, while a temporary truce was observed on the military-farm manpower front and a long-sidle political shock force was called out to smooth presidential-congressional relations and hold the Democrats' party's thin edge of power on Capitol Hill.

And the still slightly surprised law-makers pondered what to do about their own physical "protection"—which yesterday turned out to consist partially of wooden guns and dummy soldiers.

Congressional applause for the units to help farmers with their army's decision to furlough troops harvests was tempered with signs of growing resentment over War Manpower Commission policies—with three legislative manpower moves looming as the likely results.

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) disclosed plans to draft a broad amendment to the selective service act to exempt all fathers living with their families from military service, and he and Chairman (Turn To Page Nine)

Blaze in Erie Causes a Loss Of $200,000

Erie, Feb. 24.—(AP)—A fire fought by 100 firemen destroyed one store building and damaged three others in the downtown business district today, causing a loss estimated unofficially at $200,000.

The flames wrecked the three-story S. S. Kresge Co. 25 cents-to-$1 store and spread to the top of an adjoining three-story apartment and store building housing the Lerner Women's Clothing Shop, the Health Shoe Shop, the Hat Box and the Vera Voyle Beauty Shop. Seventeen persons escaped safely from the apartments.

The Kresge 5-to-25 cent store and the Alexander Fur Shop were damaged by smoke. Louis Eaton, manager of the Kresge 25 cents-to-$1 store estimated the loss of its stock at $75,000 and fire and smoke damage to all four buildings at $125,000.

At one point the flames raged beyond control, and reserve firemen were called out. The firefighters were hampered by thick smoke.

The cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Sgt. Joseph Lynch said police would seek to determine whether anyone had broken into the 25 cents-to-$1 store and started the fire.

New Rationing Formula For Restaurants

Allotments Are Placed On About Same Basis as Those for Householders

FOLLOW-UP POINT VALUES

Washington, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Restaurants and other public eating establishments were put under a new rationing formula for canned and other processed foods today.

Designed to put allotments for these establishments on approximately the same basis as those for households, the formula gives them 6/10 of a ration point in March and April for each meal served during the month of December, 1942. On the same basis, householders are receiving about 5/10 of a ration point, but OPA said the slight differential was necessary because of higher waste and fluctuating patronage in public eating places.

Family of Three Has 4,502 Cans of Food

Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—(AP)—A family of three on Philadelphia's main line cleared 4,502 excess cans of food in its application for war ration book No. 2, rationing officials reported today.

All the 72-eight-point coupons of the three books were removed, leaving a total of 4,430 eight-pointers to be taken from subsequent ration books.

James Brighle, principal at the school where the family registered, estimated that at the current rate of monthly coupon use, it would take the family more than 41 years to supply the coupons remaining to be deducted.

Soviets Forging West To Rostov Engage in Hand-to-Hand Fighting For Vital Town

PEASANTS ARE JOYFUL

Moscow, Feb. 24.—(AP)—The Red army smashed deeper today into the northern Ukraine northwest of Kharkov, where the capture of Sumy, Lebedin and Akhtyrka fashioned a Soviet bridgehead aimed at Kiev and the important railway junction of Konotop.

Today's mid-day communique said more strongly fortified settlements were captured as Russian soldiers, racing along muddy roads and across barren black fields, struck west of Sumy, 100 miles northwest of Kharkov, 75 miles southeast of Konotop and 195 miles east of Kiev.

A water barrier also was forced and about 600 Germans killed in the capture of a number of towns north of Kursk, where it was announced last night the Russians had driven to within 40 miles of Orel from the south with the capture of Maloarkhangelsk.

Soviet tanks bearing automatic weapons followed by infantry surged westward in spite of spring thaws as the drive proceeded northwest of Kharkov on a 42-mile front, with Sumy at the north end of the line, Akhtyrka at the south end and Lebedin in the center.

Soldiers and drivers discarded their hats and coats to cool their steaming faces in the warm wind blowing from the Dnieper.

In their wake peasants were digging out buried grain and hidden tools and waved joyfully at mud-plastered tanks as they prepared to get spring planking underway in the rich area.

On other sectors of the long front the Red army was actively pressing its campaign. A Tass dispatch said the "final outcome is nearing in the Caucasus" and "the offensive in the Donets basin is gradually coming to a head."

(Soviet dispatches did not mention any fighting in the north, but a DNB broadcast from Berlin said the Russians had launched a "major attack on a wide front" with strong tank and artillery support southeast of Lake Imen yesterday. The broadcast said 37 Russian tanks were destroyed.)

(The German high command said 10,000 Russians were killed in (Turn To Page Nine)

Timely Advice To Motorists

Harrisburg, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's 2,000,000 automobile owners were advised publicly today by the revenue department that a fee of $10 only is required for renewal of an owner's license and to disregard instructions as to the fee on forms that will be mailed within a few days.

The legislature last week fixed a flat license fee of $10 for passenger automobiles replacing the graduated fee of $10 and upwards, depending on horsepower. At the same time the assembly reduced the license fee for pickup trucks from $26 to $16.50.

Secretary David W. Harris explained that forms for renewal of automobile licenses, expiring March 31, had been prepared before the new legislation was enacted, and they contain the former fee.

As to pickup truck fees, Harris said that application for a reduction of fees in the old $26 class should be accompanied with a correction form, the title of the vehicle and a remittance of $16.50.

Base officials said deep water divers had been summoned to recover bodies of other members of the crew.

Busy Program Arranged For Scout Troops

A "Command-o-ree" with emphasis upon First Aid Training and physical fitness, the annual Scout Camp-o-ree, summer camp, a fall round-up and field rally, and a Merit Badge and Hobby Show coupled with a public demonstration of Scouting skills were the program features discussed last night at the meeting of the Scoutmasters of the Warren County Council held at the Boy Scout office. Each of the events are being planned and will be staged at different times through the year, the first being the command-o-ree to be held about the middle of April.

A report was made concerning the status of the Boy Scout Messenger service. Clarence Swanson is the director of this Boy Scout civilian defense activity. It was indicated that the Scouts who had applied for messenger service had each been assigned—some to Sector Headquarters, others to the First Aid Stations, and others to the Senior Post Wards. Assignments have been sent to each of these Scouts through the mail, and letters to the wardens indicating which Scouts have been assigned to him for duty. Mr. Swanson is assisted in the direction of this service by C. Ray Lewis, who supervises the messenger service in Sector Three and Paul Reynolds in Sector Four.

In recognizing the war service record of the Troops, seals were presented to the following troops to affix to their Victory Service Charts. These are a part of every troop meeting room. The seals represent troop participation in some civic service directly related to our country's war effort, such as: Civilian defense service, salvage campaign, treasure hunt for rubber, victory book collection, aluminum collection, waste paper collection, and poster distribution. The troops that had reported their activities and were awarded seals at last night's meeting were: Trinity Memorial church troop No. 1; Grace M. E. explorer troop No. 2; First Methodist troop No. 9; First Lutheran church troop No. 12; North Warren Civic Club troop No. 13; Irvine Parent-Teachers' troop No. 22; Tidouite Parent-Teachers' troop No. 27; Sheffield troop No. 35; Ludlow troop No. 50; Ludlow explorer troop No. 50.

It was learned that the Merit Badge counselor list is in the process of being revised by the Scout Advancement Committee, of which H. L. Blair is chairman. Just as quickly as the list is completed it will be prepared and placed in the hands of each Scoutmaster.

A committee including C. Ray Lewis, Dr. W. L. Ball and Paul J. Reynolds agreed to develop plans for a regular Scoutmasters' round-table meeting that could serve as a regular source of instruction, fellowship and inspiration. The group will develop plans to be presented to the next meeting of Scoutmasters.

The men who attended the meeting last night were as follows: Dr. W. L. Ball, Paul J. Reynolds, C. Ray Lewis, Lloyd Rapp, Ralph A. Hargrah, Paul Franklin, Homer Gile, Sherman Mattison, Kenneth Johnson, George Toner and Chester R. Seymour.

Jolly Time Enjoyed By Sons and Dads

More than 100 men and boys of the Grace Methodist parish gathered in the church dining room last evening for their annual father and son dinner sponsored by the McCurdy Men's Class and served by church women under the direction of the Dorcas Society.

Decorations were attractively carried out in keeping with Washington's birthday. Dr. J. H. Clemens, retired pastor of the church, delivered the invocation and the present pastor, Rev. Harold Knappenberger, acted as toastmaster.

Group singing was in charge of Harold Knappenberger, Jr., with Miss Grayce Jolley at the piano for accompaniments.

Toasts to fathers and sons were given by William Smith, McCurdy, Class president, and his son, William, Jr. Other special numbers were selections by the male chorus and trumpet duets by Charles Ryan.

Presented as guest speaker was Rev. Lee Smith, pastor of First church of Jamestown, N. Y., and brother of Mrs. Harold Knappenberger. His fine remarks brought out three principal points: That fathers and sons should be pals, partners and pioneers together.

Mr. Marlett, who is employed by the Emblem Oil Company on Pennsylvania avenue, east, was on his way to work at 7:49 and was crossing Grant street at Pennsylvania avenue. Mr. Whitten was making a left turn into Grant street from Pennsylvania avenue when Marlett was hit.

The man was taken at once to the hospital where it was found he had suffered bruises about the body, two severe gashes on the forehead and lacerations about the face into which cinders had been ground. He was also suffering from shock. His condition is regarded as fair.

Lieut. M. Evan of the police force investigated the accident.

ATTRACTIVE DISPLAY

Girls of the Walker Creamery Products Company's store on Pennsylvania avenue, west, have arranged a most interesting window display showing the activities of the U. S. Marine Corps. The display attracts much attention.

MME. CHIANG TO SPEAK

Madame Chiang Kai-Shek will go before the microphone again Tuesday, March 2, in a broadcast from Madison Square Garden, New York, at ten p. m., to be carried by CBS and MBS and possibly others.

INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Charles Erickson, while making some repairs Tuesday on his home on Poplar street, Youngsville, fell from a ladder. He received severe injuries and was brought to the Warren hospital in an ambulance. His head was cut and it is feared that he suffered a fractured skull and pelvis.

WORK TO START

Workmen in the employ of the Franklin Contracting firm which will make color repairs to the Hickory street bridge piers are erecting sheds on the bridge from which the work will be carried on. The piers were found to be badly in need of repairs when an investigation was made by engineers and a diver some months ago.

CLOSED FOR DURATION

Due to the inability to secure men to operate the wrecking car and other features of the garage and because male members of the family are all in the armed forces, it has been decided to close the Munksgard Garage for the duration. Every effort has been made to continue operation but the labor problem proved too difficult to solve and the place has been closed.

SCOUTS ENTERTAIN

Boy Scouts of Troop 12 were hosts to a fine gathering in the church dining room when they entertained their fathers, troop committeemen and sponsoring Washington Class members, together with boys and leaders of Presbyterian Troops 4 and 8. Games were followed by two hours of sound movies, including some shown by Archie Hunter, a guest, and a new three-reel color action film from Scout headquarters. Arrangements were in charge of Scoutmaster Stover and Assistant Baldensperger, with refreshments planned by Bill Yeager and Dick Randall.

H. S. Preparing For Carnival Next Month

Students of Warren High School are again in the midst of preparations for their all-school carnival, with all its frivolity and fun, and have set the date of March 5 for the event.

As in the four previous years, the main attraction will be the auditorium show staged by Bandmaster Harry Summers in the form of a musical comedy that promises all the laughs of a Broadway hit.

Another star feature will be the gym show, presenting acrobats who have won state recognition and promise a program of breathtaking movement and suspense.

There will also be the midway with games galore and sideshows at every turn. There will be the customary barkers, carnival crowds, vendors, and pop stands.

All of these having been indulged in, the crowd will climax the evening with dancing.

INSTALLING SIRENS

Work of installing the new air raid sirens recently purchased by the borough is under way. The relays by which all can be operated from a central point have arrived, but there are still some parts to be received before the sirens can be placed in operation, and it is not expected they can be used during the next alert.

WILL SALVAGE GLASS

Boy Scouts of Troop 9 of the First Methodist church are making progress with their campaign for the salvaging of clear glass. Many householders have already called 3048 to report quantities of glass at their homes and the boys have arrangements made to use a truck to pick up any large quantities reported.

RED CROSS BROADCAST

The American Red Cross War Fund drive for $125,000,000 will be launched Sunday with two special broadcasts, the first of which, over the BLU at 4:15 p. m., will bring to the microphone President Roosevelt, General Dwight Eisenhower from Africa, and Admiral Chester Nimitz from the Pacific. At 9:45 p. m., over the BLU, Wendell Willkie will speak from Convention Hall in St. Louis.

MAILING OUT RULES

Rules and regulations to govern the new air raid alarm signals are being sent out over the county by the Council of Defense so that all may be advised of the official rulings. Word has been received locally that sometime before the end of the month a blackout test will be staged and the new rules will govern the drill. At the trial recently given some confusion resulted, as the signals came so close together that many did not know exactly what each meant.

WILL SHORTEN SCHEDULE

The West Ridge Bus Company will soon announce a new schedule for local busses during the rush hours. Due to the fact that more busses are not available for the city lines the running time of trips will be speeded up and trips will be made every ten instead of every fifteen minutes. This will help handle the business which due to gasoline rationing is growing by leaps and bounds. This morning the busses carried especially heavy loads due to the wet weather and all of the busses were crowded.

New Phone Directories Are Compact

Distribution of 6,900 new and more compact telephone directories in Warren and vicinity will start next Friday, (February 26) it was announced today by Horace M. Stevenson, district manager of the Bell Telephone Company. The new books will be mailed to all subscribers and distribution is expected to be finished by Monday, March 1, he said.

No longer will it be necessary for subscribers to leaf through seldom used pages. Mr. Stevenson said, because the new grey-covered directory omits some of the more distant exchanges formerly included, to which comparatively few calls are made.

The directory will list approximately 6,500 subscribers in Warren, East Branch, Russell, Tidout, Tionesta, Youngsville and West Hickory and seven nearby communities. It will contain approximately 100 pages.

Mr. Stevenson stated that subscribers making frequent calls to exchanges no longer included in the local directory may obtain a directory listing those exchanges by calling the business office.

Bonds Being Retired In Good Order

With the millage of 16 mills set for the taxes for Warren Borough this year the finances of the city are being most ably managed by the finance committee of the Town Council. Where many boroughs of the size of Warren are feeling the strain of the war the local Council has held the millage to the same amount as that of last year.

In this connection it is also noteworthy to note that the handling of the bonded indebtedness of the borough is also being capably done. On January 1, 1942 the bonded indebtedness of the city stood at $223,000 and during the year $21,000 of the bonds were redeemed leaving the outstanding bonds to the amount of $202,000. To care for this outstanding debt the borough has in its sinking fund the sum of $106,910.39 cents as of December 31, 1942 which leaves the borough with only $95,089.61 yet to be placed in the sinking fund to meet the entire bonded indebtedness.

To continue to pile up money in the sinking fund the finance committee has allocated 2.7 mills of the borough taxes to be added to the money in the sinking fund.

This is a good showing in the meeting of the Borough obligations and is one of the reasons why the Borough usually has no trouble in securing top prices for their bond issues when made.

Local Women Finding Places In U. S. Service

The campaign under way all over the country to enlist young women for service in the armed forces is finding an increasing response in Warren, where several have already received assignment orders, others will leave soon and a number have made application for WAAC or WAAC duty.

Adelaide Ettinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Ettinger, 6 South Irvine street, left today from Pittsburgh with 29 others from this district to report at Iowa State Teachers' College, Cedar Falls, Iowa, for basic training.

Chief Petty Officer White, of the Jamestown and Warren naval recruiting stations, reports approval of a number of other local acceptances for enlistment in WAVES and SPARS but these names are held up for further examinations and approval.

Rosa Lee Sprague, 13 Jefferson avenue, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hinkley, of Sheffield, left yesterday to report for basic training in the WAAC center at Daytona Beach, Fla. She attended Lock Haven State Teachers' College and Pennsylvania State College and had recently enrolled at Hoff's Business College for further training.

Julia Nichols, 1107 Pennsylvania avenue, west, who is employed by Sears-Roebuck Company as manager at Bradford, is waiting her call to report at the same Florida training station.

The army recruiting and induction station in Pittsburgh reports two others, Helen Louise Stroup and Lois Viola Retterer, from Warren, have passed their finals and been sworn in for WAAC service. Both are employed in office work at the New Process Company and expect assignment orders the first of March or soon afterward.

Miss Stroup, 601 West Fifth avenue, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Carr Stroup, of Titusville RD 2, and a graduate of Pleasantville High school.

Miss Retterer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lewis Retterer, 16 South Pine street, is an alumna of the local high school and the third member of her family to enter the armed forces. Craig N. Retterer is a gunner's mate third class at Newport, R. I., and Frederick L. Retterer, Jr., is a seaman second class in Trinidad, British West India.

Andrews the Flying General

Entered air force from artillery during World War I. Set amphibian records, higher standards.

1939: Chief of general staff training division. Planned paratroops, tank and air corps.

1942: Middle east U. S. commander, directed bombers that helped chase Rommel out of Libya.

1943: Succeeded Eisenhower as COMETH-commander of U. S. forces in European theater of war.

Silver-haired, six-foot Lieut.-Gen. Frank M. Andrews, once dubbed the "handsomest man in the War Department," stands ready to lead the troops and airmen of America in the great invasion of Europe. Tennessee-born and 59, Andrews is a modern flying general, knows the value of co-ordinating air and ground efforts. As chief of the GHQ air force in 1934 he kept so busy flying he required an office in the skies. When the world went to war, he went to the Caribbean to prime our defenses there, later aided Montgomery in Egypt and Libya. Now he's ready to put into heroic action the paratroops, tanks, bombers, fighters whose organization he helped to build.

THREE MILLION BOOKS NEEDED

Three million books are needed immediately for our men in the armed forces. From the jungles of Guadalcanal to the snow-covered huts of Iceland come urgent calls for good books. The more isolated the post the greater is the need which increases daily beyond any awareness we have yet shown.

The National Committee, headed by Franklin P. Adams, Edward L. Bernays, and Norman Cousins, noted and capable co-chairmen, stresses insistently the need of sharing the best with our fighting forces. We at home are reminded of our responsibility in helping sustain morale on the fighting fronts by recognizing and meeting these requests for help. It is a very simple duty to our men in uniform but an increasingly important one.

Robert St. John, on board a British boat headed for Africa during the evacuation of Greece, after the exhausting campaign with such overwhelming losses, was amazed at the books British, Australian and Canadian soldiers were reading . . . and the intelligent, realistic discussions of these books on the war and the peace some day to follow. John Hersey, brilliantly reporting from Guadalcanal recently, found this same interest among our own men but the information available pitifully inadequate. One man, writing from a lonely post, reported a reading supply of two or three tattered copies of the Readers' Digest and a copy of the Harvard Alumni Bulletin published in the early thirties.

It is that last "Book of the Month" selection or other new title you have just finished reading and enjoyed so much which would look best in that large and conspicuously placed tri-colored V. B. C. box at the public library.

FOUR DELUSIONS

Col. Willard Chevalier, publisher of Business Week magazine, told an audience of advertising men recently that America labored under four delusions before the war, and still to too great extent entertained the same ones.

"First, we belittled the economic resources of the enemy. We thought Germans war-weary and bankrupt, Japan too insignificant to worry about."

"Second, we thought we could not be attacked in our own homeland. But every time we go to the garage for our car, a toothy little Jap is there to tell us how far we can drive. In every oil burning basement sits a Nazi storm-trooper warning us how much fuel we can burn. We've been attacked in our own homes."

It might be added that a Nazi submarine captain tells us how much sugar and coffee we must do without—not to mention bananas.

"Third, and this false notion most of us still hold, be believe that our high standard of living must be maintained. I say extravagance must be curtailed if we are to keep this country, which our fighting boys and girls have left in our custody, as they want to find it when they return."

"Fourth, we thought we could improvise a military machine. We could drum up an army of trained fighters in short order, we boasted. Well, we've been at it two and a half years and our armed forces are just beginning to square off for action."

It is evident that Americans must cast off delusions and get down to facts.

The local Red Cross blood bank donor committee will need a total of 1,050 donors to meet the requirements for the year in Warren. Here's an opportunity for civilians who have not already made their contribution to the war effort.

Now is the time for Warren citizens to plan their vacations at home by working war gardens. Remember, you won't have to worry about ceiling prices and freezing when you grow your own.

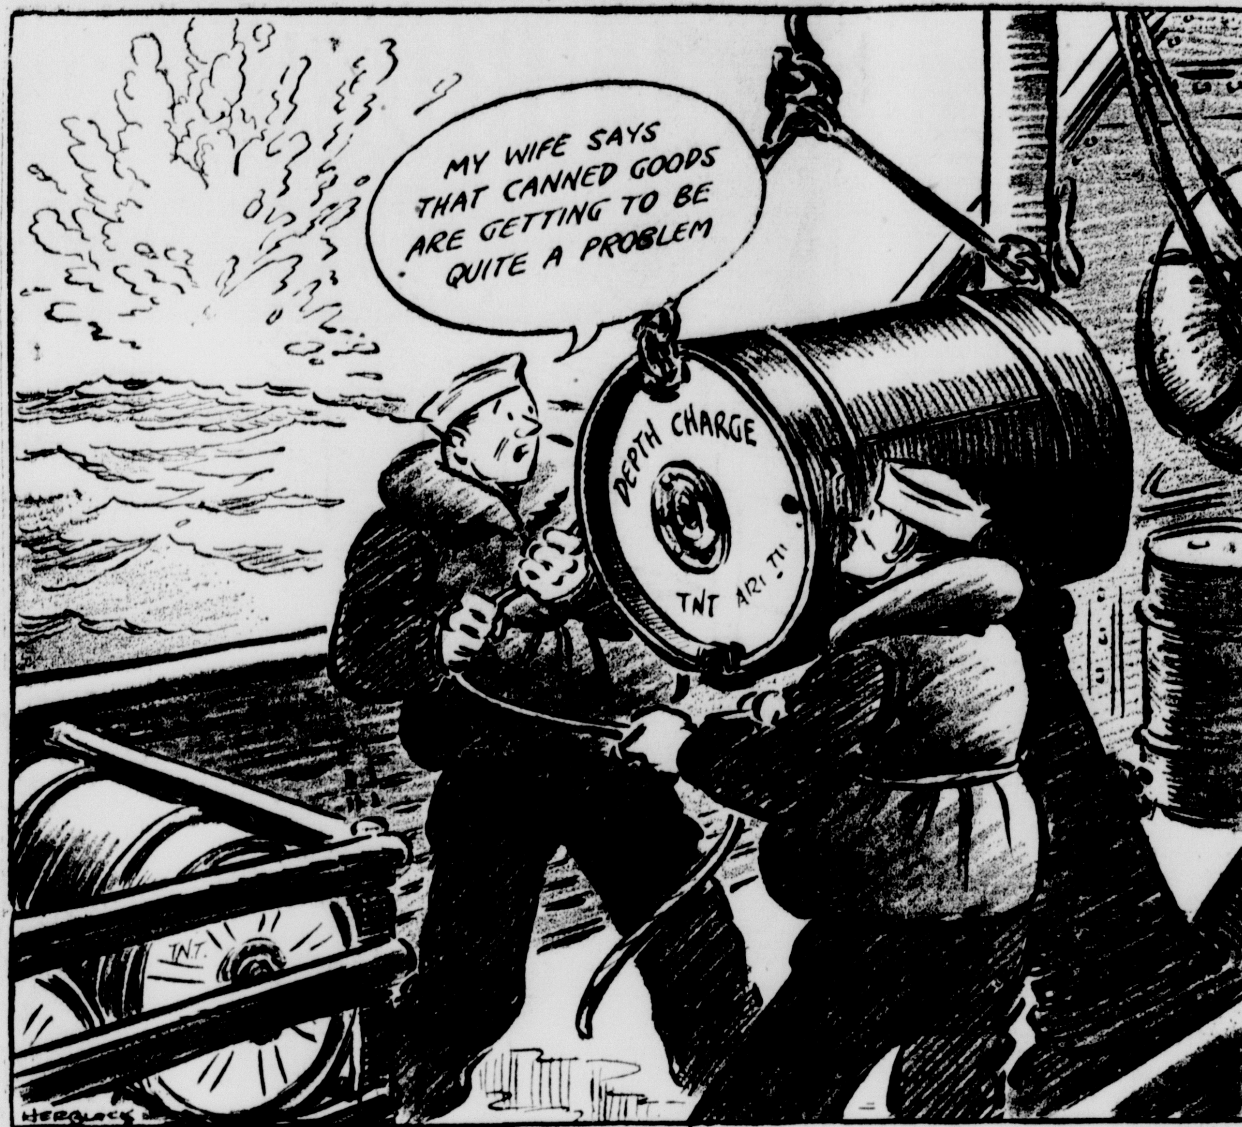

The police department has announced that the ban on all night parking on improved streets of the borough is being enforced. Well, one ban, more or less, isn't going to make a great difference.

From the number of events that have been planned and are being carried out it would appear that the dads and sons of Warren are having a great time this week.

Give the Scouts of Troop 9 of the Baptist church a boost in their project of salvaging of clear glass by calling 3048, if you have any to donate.

Tomorrow is "school day" for local householders whose initials are from H to P.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — If you have been gasping over the number of Army and Navy airplane accidents and wondering if a lot of them aren't the result of sabotage, you can stop right now.

Congressional concern over these accidents resulted in some investigating . . . and Robert A. Lovett, assistant secretary of war in charge of the air force, has spread on the record a pretty thorough analysis of the situation.

So far as the Air Transport Command is concerned (they deliver planes and manpower to the 10 theaters of war all over the globe): In 12 months, the ATC established a record of losing only one plane out of 333 delivered; but in the last six months, only one plane has been lost out of each 500 delivered.

As for the Army itself: In the first eight months of last year (the latest period for which figures have been tallied) the Army flew 74.3 per cent more hours and 98.5 more miles than in the whole ten-year period from 1930-40. The rate of accidents per thousand hours flown was lower than in the previous ten years.

Warplanes of today are faster, heavier and some carry numbers of persons that only a few years ago would have been thought fantastic. When a big plane goes down now, it is likely to carry with it 15 or 20 men. Yet actual deaths per flying hours have increased only five one-hundredths over the 1930-40 period.

Warplanes of today are faster, heavier and some carry numbers of persons that only a few years ago would have been thought fantastic. When a big plane goes down now, it is likely to carry with it 15 or 20 men. Yet actual deaths per flying hours have increased only five one-hundredths over the 1930-40 period.

What is it? I think it is a picture so incredibly bad that it is excellent entertainment. What ever its determined young producer intended, the picture is best taken as a burlesque of all western pictures past and future. So considered, it has many earmarks of a master work.

"THE Outlaw" is a story of tough, quick-shooting Billy the Kid, featuring sweeter girl Jane Russell's special charms highlighted by a loose-fitting, low-cut blouse. Though it is the first cinema sex-life of Billy the Kid, there are times when "The Outlaw" seems more the tale of a great love affair between three men and a horse.

The three are Billy, played by Jack Buetel, Doc Holliday (Walter Huston) and Sheriff Pat Garrett (Thomas Mitchell). The horse is a roan dubbed Red.

Doc comes to the little wild western town in pursuit of his stolen horse, finds it in possession of a slow-drawling, hard-bitten, baby-faced Billy. He also finds that his pal Pat has gone to the side of the law. Doc was a fast one on the trigger himself, but he and Billy settle the horse affair by taunting amiable discussion—the beginning of a beautiful friendship.

As the Kid and the Doc grow

"It is well to point out," says Lovett, "that the number of accidents has increased and will increase in some proportion to the tremendous increase in the number of hours flown. However, the important criterion is whether the rate of accidents in relation to hours flown has increased disproportionately."

In peace time, it was enough if a pilot could take off in clear weather and perhaps bring his plane home through a mild storm. Today, pilots are being trained to fly in the Arctic blizzards of Iceland and the Aleutians; in those flash storms that constantly whip the south Pacific; in the tropical rains and sandstorms of North Africa; and in the fogs over Europe.

THE only method of training to combat these weather hazards is to fly in them and the United States in that respect is one of the great training centers of the world. It has all kinds of weather and our pilots in training get a little taste of most of it before they are sent into combat.

Such bad weather flying increases accidents but it also makes for greater safety later on.

That box score which showed that we were losing only one plane in combat to each five to seven lost by the Japanese and one to every three lost by the Germans can't be attributed entirely to superiority of planes. Most of the credit must go to the men who fly them—and back to them to the training those men received before they got their wings.

closer in grudging mutual admiration. Doc and Sheriff Pat—he's a law man, y'know—find themselves more and more at odds. So after a killing Pat plugs Billy, and Doc goes whole-hog for the outlaw by hiding him away while he himself takes to the hills. Guess where he hides the Kid? Nowhere but in the shack of half-breed Rio—that's Jane—who hates the Kid because he killed her brother, Rio's Doc's gal, and here's her chance to carve up the helpless Kid for revenge but you know she can't do that—not in the second reel anyway—so she just hates him and takes good care of him instead, even applying a novel cure for chills and fever. That's how they turn up married.

So Doc comes home, and is about to plug the Kid but Rio confides all and the two boys make a deal—the Kid giving Doc his pick of the horse Red or the gal Rio. This makes Rio sore and she sides Pat on the fleeing pair, so it winds up with Billy and Doc in custody just as the Indians—millions of 'em—come whooping along.

THERE'S a whole lot more—gosh darn near everything you can think of, including some philosophical dissertations on life by Doc, the Kid, and Pat.

The magnificent Huston plays Doc for all he's worth, and Mitchell doesn't give up to straight hammering until the situation calls for it. Jane's role has her snarling, sulking and pouting so much it seems her one expression.

But you've got to see "The Outlaw" for yourself. I'm going to see it again, and I wouldn't be surprised if it makes a few more millions for its maker.

Problem of the WIRE CAGE

BY JOHN DICKSON CARR

Chapter 31
THE sneer on Nick’s face did not change, except that it grew more malicious. He was across his lap, his posture easy. He uttered a hollow, unbelieving snort.

Dr. Fell turned to the others. “I should now like,” said Dr. Fell, “to tell you some home truths about this charming, hospitable, bluff, half-fellow-well-meaning gentleman. That is why you are here. You are here, Miss White, must hear it. It won’t be pleasant hearing; but it will release you out of bondage.”

Dr. Fell did not remove his eyes from Brenda.

DR. FELL paused. Brenda’s face was so pale that the eyes seemed to have turned a darker colour.

DR. FELL spoke very quietly. “Can you—any of you—think of any person more likely to be influenced by sentimental appeals than Brenda White?” I ask you that now. Our friend Nick already said the hold. Hasn’t he been at you persistently, Miss White? Wasn’t the real reason why you refused to marry young Rowland when he first asked you, that you were counting on your “allowance” in the marriage with Dor-

A. Johnson Is

August Johnson, who celebrated his 82nd birthday yesterday, was the oldest father at the father and son banquet last night in St. Paul's Lutheran church and was paid special tribute by the gathering. Mr. Johnson also has the distinction of having attended every father-son event ever held in his church.

The national anthem was sung before about 150 men and boys were seated to enjoy a delicious dinner served by Mrs. Allan D. Carlson and her committee of women of the church. A patriotic air was provided in table decorations of red, white and blue, with large American and Christian flags flanking the speakers' table.

This event is sponsored annually by the Men's Brotherhood and the president of that group, Allan Carlson, was master of ceremonies. Pastor Bertil Edquist gave the invocation. John Erickson toasted the dads and Creed Erickson gave the toast to sons. Mrs. Emil Jacobson was accompanist for a selection sung by Allen Anderson, Leonard Anderson, Martin Carlson, Douglas Johnson and Gordon Odmark, and for a violin solo by Gordon Odmark. Everett Borg was accompanied by his wife for a baritone solo.

Mention was made by Pastor Edquist of the departure this morning of four young men of the church, Willis Lundahl, William Peterson, Donald Sandstrom and Donald Valentine, for service in the armed forces. This brings to 38 the number of young men of this church now in service.

Dr. J. A. Davidson, First Baptist minister, who is leaving soon to become an army chaplain, gave a splendid address on "The Field Is the World".

To conclude, Mr. Edquist pronounced the benediction and all sang "America the Beautiful".

One of the greatest success stories in the history of government finance is that of the Voluntary War Bond purchases of Americans since Pearl Harbor. Nearly 50,000,000 Americans (the greatest number of people who have ever owned the securities of any government) have purchased War Bonds. Of these, more than 25,000,000 persons have placed the regular purchase of War Bonds first on their budgets through subscribing to the Payroll Savings Plan. In December 1941 some 700,000 workers had pledged an average of 4% of their monthly wages for purchases of $5,000,000 of War Bonds a month. By December 31, 1942, the number of workers on the Payroll Savings Plan had grown to 25,000,000, with an average deduction of 9% of their monthly wages for the purchase of nearly $100,000,000 of War Bonds a month. At the present rate of growth, the day is near when 30,000,000 workers will be investing 10% of their pay in War Bonds at the rate of nearly half a billion dollars a month—when sixty million people of all groups will be buying War Bonds out of current income. This is, of course, only the beginning of the story. The increasing cost of total war demands that Americans must increase their regular purchase of War Bonds this year. It is, however, proof that they will make any necessary sacrifice to achieve Victory.

Bradford Brings Brilliant Record To Warren This Week

DRAGONS ARE PRIMED FOR TILT FRIDAY NIGHT TO AVENGE LOSS SUFFERED EARLIER IN SEASON

There is a marked disturbance town this week with the Bradford Owls preparing for their annual trek into Dragon territory along their string of 35 stories against 2 losses, for the first game of 1943.

People who never trail after the high school team for various reasons are preparing to attend the battle here Friday night just because it's Bradford High School and the reputable Owls doing the offense.

The Dragons have quite a record on the books themselves, even though they've lost two of the four games, since losing three of four lettermen. They've won 1 in 15 games.

These Dragons have a lot on the ball—in fact more than they themselves realize—Against Bradford in the first meeting, they looked like a bunch of scared rabbits. They turned around and beat Sheffield in one of the best games of the year and against the latest team the Wolverines have put together for a long time.

They then turned on the James-

Phil Jinx In Hands Of Cox After Forty Year List Of Misfortunes

Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—(P.) Don't be surprised to read one of these days that Philadelphia Phils fans are doing midnight snake dances in Shibe Park to drive the evil spirits away.

It's about time now for a 40-year-old Phils' hoodoo again to strike.

Records show that a jinx has dogged the team nearly every time it has changed hands—and if the precedent holds, 33-year-old (Turn to Page Ten)

Monday Night League Is Won By Bloms; 2nd Place Held By Rocks

The Blomquist Fumitures and trutheers-Wells turned in one of the fastest games seen this year in the local "X" court last night before the Bloms, undisputed champions of the first half Monday circuit, started slipping the oval into the pay-bucket and forged ahead to win 30 to 21.

Neither team could make their shots stick in the first two heats as the battle was closely fought all the way through until the last session. Steinkamp, Joe Lytle and Bonavita started the assault with fast pass-work and the Bloms had a hard time keeping up as the first quarter ended at 4-4, largely due to Johnny Pick who had the pair of counters.

The second session was another on the same order and before it had hardly gotten under way, Joltin' Joe Lytle dipped one from the center but Louis Check evened it up again.

Then all the Bloms started sharing the points and while the E's stayed close the half ended at 11 to 8 in one of the lowest scoring matches this year.

The Struthers five had a bad time of it in the third and it spelled defeat for them although the Bloms were "in" as far as the first half goes anyway. Only Chase could connect in this period and it ended at 10 to 3 as the Blom's shots hit regular, behind Bob Lun- (Turn to Page Ten)

AT THE ARCADE
Fordham dropped three close ones to the Notre Dame outfit in the K. of C. loop last night and J. Salamon led the assault with a 590 total and Dr. J. Giunta helped along with 543. Dr. S. Giunta paced the losers with 581 and Frank Gerardi put the rest along with a 571, which should have been enough, but support was lacking as they dropped 2596 to 2532.

On the other slides the Holy Cross and Santa Clara split even, with Bob Haven kicking in 540 for high for Santa Clara and Leo Minelli getting 579 for Holy Cross lead. Honor roll: L. Minelli 204, Dr. J. Giunta 214, Salamon 233, Dr. S. Giunta 229, F. Gerardi 217.

Covering The Sports Front

—WITH—
"BOB" JOHNSON

Most of the sports-talk of this week centers around the Bradford game to be held here Friday night on Beaty Gym.

For rivalry, these two teams can match anything ever dreamed of—Coach Henry Kolpein and Harold Brace have long been noted for their championship outfits and one usually has to get through the other to make the title races.

In twenty-one games throughout the past ten years, Warren has won eleven and Bradford has taken ten. The worst defeat being, ironically enough, 1943's when the Owls jumped on the Dragons at 42 to 17. However the Dragons took them at 46 to 19 in 1939 for a dozer.

In the twenty-one games to '43, the margin of Warren wins over the Owls has been 6.3 per game, the biggest being 27 points in 1939 and the smallest at 1 in '35 and the second meeting in '39 when it was 29 to 28 after the drubbing the locals had administered them in the earlier season.

On the other hand—Bradford's margin of victory over the Dragons has been 9.7 per contest—largely due to scores of the past three years—Up to 1940 the average take over Warren was 5 points a game—The worst defeat ever handed Warren was this year at 42 to 17 with a 25 point margin and the smallest was '36 with a 3 point.

Now if you are to take the fighting spirits of the Dragons and place them alongside the Owls—The difference will be slight in either case.

If this proves nothing else—A moral must come out, so grab for one—Bradford took a bad beating from Warren in '39 at 46 to 19 and came right back in the same year to almost turn the tables but Warren won 29-28.

Warren was beaten badly on Feb. 5th of this year at 42 to 17 and there is one game remaining to redeem that sock. The battleground is laid out—the two sides are ready—Anything can happen—So Dragons, we'll leave it in your hands.

A letter from Chuck Young, formerly of Warren, a golfer of note and now employed in Indiana with the Red Cross has announced to this pillar that Bud Jeannette whom we mentioned as refusing the Sheboygan Pro outfit his services on the court—played with them last week in Fort Wayne — We had received a letter from a friend in Rochester with a long column about Bud in it and saying he had decided to stay there even with the 100 dollar offer for each game and five days of work each week—Thanks Charley and hope to see you around again soon, but you'll have to argue with Rochester.

J. B. Leidig claims complete loss of memory when asked about the Faculty having six men on the floor at one time in that game the other night—Well, those teachers moved so fast that it was hard to count them—But it looked like it from where we were sitting—Chalk up one more for success in the programs that generally help the war problems—Eighty six dollars for the Red Cross "ain't" hay and its quite a start on their drive.

One week, Don Finley gathers 226 knives for the soldiers of the United Nations in the South Pacific and the next week the school puts one like this out—Anybody else have any ideas?—

Honus Wagner Recalls Days Of Tri-State Circuit As He Celebrates His 69th Year

Pittsburgh, Feb. 24.—(P.)—Honus Wagner, regarded by most baseball fans as the greatest shortstop of them all, reached his 69th birthday today and received his 2nd major league contract as each of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"I may not be quite as spry today as I was 49 years ago when I was the first training camp star at Steubenville, O., but I'm still eager to get started this spring," the Flying Dutchman chuckled as congratulations poured in.

Ed Barrow, president of the New York Yankees must also be getting along in years, because Honus gave him credit for "discovering" him. Barrow was a theater man then, but saw Wagner loping about on his now famous bow legs with the Warren, Penna. team of the Tri-State loop.

Barrow signed him and farmed him to the Paterson, N. J., club,

WORKMAN KILLED

The vital and potent relationship between father and son is not one of simple authority, as of old, but rather one of sympathetic and wise understanding. It is a delicate responsibility for a father to guide his son without interfering too much with the boy's course of life; the task must be performed with wisdom, kindness and good cheer. Furthermore, an understanding father's precept, supplemented by habitual example, will exert an influence greater than any other factor with respect to inculcating desirable traits of character in a son such as self-control, attention to health, kindness, fair play, self-reliance, faithfulness to duty, reliability, and loyalty.

delegation of powers in an effort to speed up the clearance of cases involving renegotiation of war contracts, the Office of War Information disclosed today.

Washington, Feb. 24.—(P)—Senator Walter F. George of Georgia, ranking Democratic member of the foreign relations committee, cautioned Americans today against counting on a military decision in Europe this year, but said there is "substantial hope" of victory there late in 1944.

Cavan, Erie, Feb. 24.—(P)—Thirty-seven orphan girls, ranging in age from 4 to 18, were burned to death in a fire that destroyed the Cavan province orphanage early today.

Nazi Floodtide of Armor Hurdled Back In Kasserine Gap

Eight Allied planes were lost in these assaults, in raids in Bizerte and the air base at Kairouan and in sea sweeps in which five barges carrying motor transports were sunk.

Marshal Rommel continued to probe the Allied lines to the north-east of the Kasserine sector, however, and made one attack west of Ousseltia. This was repulsed, the communiqué said.

Improved weather conditions permitted the Allied air force to swing into action on a large scale yesterday, and bombers and fighters slashed at the extended German columns beyond the Kasserine gap and attacked enemy supply lines in the rear.

(The German radio reported last night that 4,016 Allied prisoners had been taken and 253 tanks captured during the first eight days of the Axis offensive in central Tunisia. More than 3,000 of the prisoners were said to be Americans.)

Large Number Register For No. 2 Books

In the various school buildings of the city and in the county work of registering schoolholders for Ration Book No. 2 is under way. In most of the schools teachers are employed in making the registration but in this city a number of volunteer workers are engaged in the work. On an average it requires about 12 minutes to register each person. In some instances however a longer time is required where there are quantities of canned goods to be reported and coupons detached from the ration books.

The superintendent of borough schools, John G. Rossman, assembled figures for the opening period showing approximately 2,300 persons had registered from 10 a. m. to 12:45 p. m. These were residents having surnames in the bracket A to G, inclusive, or approximately one-tenth of the borough total in one-twelfth of the time allotted for registration.

His figures showed 700 at the high school, 206 at Home street, 450 at Johnson school, 303 at Lacy, 224 at McClintock and 410 at South street for a total of 2,293.

Mr. Rossman urges that registrants on Thursday and Friday come as early as possible, the first period beginning each morning at ten o'clock. No long waits have been reported and it is felt the enrollment is moving along very satisfactorily for all concerned.

Forty Million Tax Reduction To Be Proposed By Governor of the gasoline tax, relief tax on liquor and cigarettes or the inheritance tax," the governor told a press conference, referring to published reports such reductions were under consideration.

Martin is expected to ask an over-all budget of approximately $500,000,000 for operation of the state government during the biennium starting June 1. This compares with $613,000,000 for the current two-year fiscal period.

The chief executive's budget has been held up for several weeks due to difficulty in estimating prospective tax receipts. A sizeable drop in revenues is expected.

Martin said he had decided against recommending a change in procedure of collecting the seven per cent corporate net income tax and that this prevented a larger tax cut.

Martin said he still was studying proposed shifting of administration of unemployment relief from the state to the counties in his effort to "work out the best plan in the United States."

"Whether we can get the thing done this session of the legislature is a question of developments," he explained. "A committee which looked into plans of New York for local administration is digesting its information."

When we get that report, a bipartisan committee will be appointed to further study everything relating to public assistance. The matter will be considered by the legislature, but any legislation has got to be good and in the proper form."

Offensive in Donets Basin Nearing End

heavy fighting north of Orel during "vain Soviet attacks." The communiqué said Russian Givies in the Caucasus, Donets Basin, south-west of Kharkov and west of Kursk were frustrated and a Soviet motorized guard corps wiped out on the Mus river west of the Donets Basin.

Malarchangelsk, south of Orel, had been considered highly important by the Germans who had crisscrossed the entire city with anti-tank ditches, minefields, trenches and barbed wire barricades and then brought up reserves of tanks and planes.

The Russians took the center of resistance by drives from the south and northeast, however.

The Germans forced 110,000 men and women and children to leave the city and work in Germany, a dispatch said. It was estimated that 70,000 civilians died of hunger and other causes during the occupation. Fourteen thousand Jews were declared to have been shot.

But in the Donets Basin strong German counterattacks were noted in the Soviet early communiqué, while Soviet troops forging west of Rostov engaged in hand-to-hand fighting to occupy a fortified town.

The Germans concentrated large tanks and mobile infantry in the Kraasnoarmeisk area north of Stalingo, in the Donets Basin, in an attempt to reestablish severed communications arteries, the war bulletin said.

"Our troops, however, are holding back the Hitlerite onslaught and causing them heavy losses," the communiqué stated.

(The Germans are throwing large aerial forces into the battle west of Rostov in an effort to halt the advance of Soviet troops in that region, the Russians said in a noon communiqué recorded in London.)

A German garrison on the approaches to Lebedin was annihilated when it refused to surrender, the war bulletin said.

The forces at Akhtyrka provided a pincers 50 miles northeast of Poltava, with another pincers 50 miles southeast of the rail junction city. Poltava lies on the west bank of the Dnieper river about 65 miles northeast of Kremenchug and the Dnieper river valley.

Bright News From Tunisia Aids Markets

New York, Feb. 24.—(P)—Brighter news from Tunisia was a factor in a further moderate rise in stock market prices in today's early proceedings but expanded profit selling on the runup cancelled the improvement in some departments.

Volume continued at a rate of better than a million shares in the first half of the session. Near the fourth hour rails and a number of industrial pivots held minor advances but the list also displayed minus marks here and there.

Corporate bonds registered fresh advances while commodities gave up a part of yesterday's gains.

Smith (D-SC) of the senate agriculture committee agreed that induction of single and childless married men between 38 and 45 would have to be resumed to meet the army goal of 8,200,000 men by Dec. 31.

The measure would go much further than Rep. Kliday's (D-Tex) bill to defer fathers until all able bachelors and childless married men had been drafted by spreading classifications out on state-wide bases.

Moving toward the other objective—a thorough probe of deferment—granted government workers—Rep. Costello (D-Calif) called a meeting of his special subcommittee which yesterday was charged with conducting the investigation.

Meanwhile, a bill requiring senate confirmation of most federal appointees receiving $4,500 or more a year was slated for a showdown in that body's judiciary subcommittee, with growing prospects of policy scraps over it within the Democratic majority.

The senate steering committee—long virtually dormant—was saddled with the job of bringing about better teamwork between Capitol Hill and the White House. Called out of its idle state by leadership worried Democratic victory strife had seen Republican victories in the house as threatening their slim majority, the committee went into a cards-down session yesterday with Economic Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes and Price Administrator Prentiss Brown.

June DeFrees Commissioned After Training

This community's first WAVE to become a commissioned officer in the United States Naval Reserve is June DeFrees, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. DeFrees, 504 Liberty street.

Miss Anne DeFrees, of the same address, has just returned from New York where, on February 9, she attended ceremonies in which her sister was commissioned an ensign.

Ensign DeFrees has been assigned for active duty at Hunter College in the Bronx, largest enlisted WAVE school yet opened and capable of eventually handling 10,000 girls. Her training as an assistant buyer for John Wanamaker in Philadelphia stands her in good stead for her new duties, that of uniform officer in outfitting girls arriving at the college and as liaison officer between the navy and the uniform establishments.

Her training as midshipman was taken at the Mt. Holyoke WAVE center in South Hadley, Mass.

For the present, she is fortunate in being able to take an apartment with her brother, Charles, who is in New York to take a special course in photography.

Local Man On Guadalcanal Wins Praise

Among minor spoils falling to the lot and use of American soldiers on Guadalcanal is captured Japanese stationery and Pfc. Aubrey writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Aubrey, 310 Prospect street, on a symbol-decorated envelope of same.

This letter, dated January 26, was accompanied by a film of snapshots of himself and companions in camp surroundings. These have been developed and placed in the display case at the Balfour Studio, Liberty street, and are attracting quite a lot of attention.

Included also was a copy of the commendation given by Major General A. M. Patch to officers and enlisted men of the engineering division of which young Aubrey is a member. It recognizes "meritorious and conspicuous service during recent operations against the enemy." The commendation continues: "But for your help, the recent operations against the enemy would not have been possible. Your accomplishments included among other things blazing roads through the jungles and building bridges over the Matanikau river. This was done with limited and inadequate equipment. . . . Your work was all the more remarkable because it was done under the adverse conditions of intense heat, heavy tropical storms and often while subjected to harassing hostile fire."

"'Suckers' Important Guys," Says An Observer Who Knows

So I'm a sucker, am I? Well, as long as I am a sucker the country can be mighty thankful, for the moment I stop being a sucker and become an active part of the armed forces of America, war will have come to the United States on enemy wings.

I am a volunteer civilian observer of the Aircraft Warning Service of the U. S. Army, a "sucker" to some of folks on outside looking in. I spend hours developing "spotter's neck" and "tower climber's calves" for nothing — thank God. I froze during long night hours last winter. I stood in soaking rain peering into weather listed as zero-zero; I spent hours listening, for nothing, in weather when even the birds were on instruments!

I have reported the same old transports, the same Army planes, the same Cubs and Wacos. I have worn enough clothes to start a rummage sale and often looked like one, those long winter watches last February.

Some of the "temporary patriots" dropped out after a few weeks. But me, I'll stay with the A. W. S., thank you, and here's why.

I like to feel I'm an important cog in the vast machinery of America's defenses. Silly, isn't it, but it's true. The minute I take over the watch I become for a few short hours just that important. I'm no longer a clerk, an editor, a mechanic, a gardener or a minister. I'm an important guy! Thousands of men and millions of dollars worth of equipment are waiting for my call to action.

Hundreds of thousands of wardens, fire watchers, auxiliary police and firemen can sleep peacefully as long as I am awake and on the job, and my wife and little girl can go to market, and to school, in safety as long as you other spotters are on the job during the daylight hours.

At the "unknown address" in Buffalo trained experts are alert for my phone call. I'm the one the folks with the O. C. D. arm-bands depend upon. Their splendid training and hours of study will never be called into action unless some chap like me gives the word. Not an interceptor plane of the Interceptor Command will leave the ground in combat unless some spotter like myself gives the word. Why, I can even get Generals out of bed in the middle of the night, and be thanked for it.

If "sue" can be that important and being one means we never have to give that fatal report of many—multi-motor—very high—seen—hazel one—one—north-east—five miles—south—I'll gladly be one for the duration.

And if you feel that you, too, would like to be a SUCKER Allen Gibson will be glad to have you call upon him and enroll as one of us.

"The Church in World Reconstruction" — Warren Jones. The closing hymn was "Rise Up O Men of God". Rev. Dwight Jack pastor spoke a few words in summary and in announcement of the Dedication service on March 7th and then pronounced the benediction.

HONORS WORTHY MATRON A delightful dinner was held at the home of Mrs. James Shippe on Friday evening honoring the Worthy Matron of the Order of Eastern Star, Mrs. Alice Streeter. The dinner was co-operative in character and the hostess, Mrs. Grace Shippe was assisted by Mrs. Cloie Mead and Mrs. Helen Johnson.

Patriotic colors were used in table decoration, the occasion being so near Washington's birthday. The candles used for lighting were molded in the form of an "Uncle Sam Hat" in traditional colors and were used as favors.

Games were enjoyed and a lovely gift of a desk fountain pen set presented to Mrs. Alice Streeter, the honor guest.

The word alcohol is derived from the Arabic particle al and kohl, an impalpable powder used in the East for painting eyebrows.

Phil Jinx in Hands of Cox After Forty-Year List of Misfortunes

(From Page Seven) William D. Cox, the new Phils owner, soon might find himself battling not only manpower and transportation problems, but may be hobgoblins as well.

Here's the Record: 1901—The Phils are sitting pretty with a new, beautiful and well-located park—and the outlaws come riding in with Connie Mack leading the charge. The new American Leaguers take three star Phillies players including Larry LaJoie, one of the game's great infielders—and win a pennant. The fans switch to the A's, and the Phils are left holding the bag.

1903—Discouraged, A. J. Reach and John Rodgers sell out to the James F. Potter Syndicate, which scarcely gets acclimated when a fire breaks out near the ball park. The fans run to the top tier to have a look, and the stands collapse. And some are killed and many hurt. Damage suits result.

1908—Israel Durham buys the franchise and sets out to build a great team. Before the 1909 season begins, Durham dies.

1909—Horace S. Fogel buys, makes charges against National League umpires and officials, is tried in 1913 by a league tribunal. He is banned from baseball.

1913—Bill Locke takes over and the town agrees he'll be a fine executive. In July of the same year, Locke dies.

1913—William F. Baker succeeds him—and again outlaws move in. The federal league club raids the Phils, taking star pitchers and infielders, Baker's troubles last for years.

1933—General P. Nugent is named Phils president.

What happened to Nugent is recent history. The sheriff never got him, but the National League did, and only by adroit business maneuvering was he able to emerge from the financial storms that beset him with a small quantity of cash paid by the league when it took his stock on a forced sale before re-selling to Cox.

Now Cox—superstitious fans have their fingers crossed.

The fourth quarter was even and the Struthers-Wells knotted out their opponents by 10 to 9, but had lost out in the fatal third as the scoreboard raked up 30 to 21.

Pratz was "hot" for the Rocks with 11 counters, but the playing and pass-work featured the tilt with Willard Zerbe and Tink Wolfe looking about the same as they did on the championship '38 team, although they lacked Art McKeehan who is in Oregon, with trick passing and over-head shots.
